

Quarter Century Club Banquet

Replacing the "rabbit in the hat" this year was "chicken in the pocket." LaTaille and Frank Haigh contributed to the act and the audience's hilarity live chicks appeared from coat, vest and trouser pockets. Right: Stuart Casavant, eleventh President of the Club, addressed the members. Among those listening were, left to right, Tom Dumas, President Stewart (back to camera) and Retiring President Boal.

Part of the crowd of 754, the largest in the Club's history, who attended the Eleventh Annual Banquet at Southbridge Town Hall on January 17.

Retiring Pres. Boal presented the 25-year pin to Joseph Toscano, ER, the 1000th member. Right: Part of the special group of long-service employees seated at the head table included the seven Dumas brothers, Tom, Joe, George, Wilfred, Edmond, Leo and Charles, and, back to camera, Ludwig Grenke, Maude Perry, Alice Desautels, Anna Lavalley, Josephine Talbot, Mrs. Wilfred Dumas, Eva Lamothe, Agnes Berthiaume and Marie Lamothe.
